

Order of Passing of Manuscripts

1. Articles, where the psycholinguistic subject of the research is missing, are not sent for reviews. The information about refusal and its further publication is sent to the author.
2. An author gives to the editorial college the article which answers the requirements of the policy of Collection of Proceedings of the Conference «Psycholinguistics in a Modern World», and also to the rules of preparation of articles, and also to the rules of preparation of articles to the edition. Manuscripts which do not answer the accepted requirements are not registered and shut out to further consideration, about what it is revealed to their authors.
3. The unique registration code which provides the author's anonymity at criticizing is appropriated to manuscripts, presented for a publication in Collection.
4. In all manuscripts which are given on criticizing, the degree of unicity and originality of authorial text is necessarily determined by means of corresponding software (Unicheck).
5. In case of accordance of manuscript to the requirements of the policy of Collection and rules of preparation of articles to the edition, and also at presence of positive result of verification in the system Plagiarist a manuscript is referred for examination to the specialist on the corresponding area of knowledge.